

Health Effects Institute

Boston, MA

Description: The Health Effects Institute (HEI, <http://www.healtheffects.org/>) is looking for an intern during the summer of 2010. HEI is a Boston-based non-profit organization that sponsors research into the effects of air pollutants derived from mobile sources. The role of HEI-funded research is to provide scientific information relevant to regulatory decisions about standards for levels of air pollutants. Currently HEI is funding studies in Asia, Latin America and Europe as well as North America.

The intern's main duties will be to work with HEI scientific staff to research the areas of currently funded studies and to assist in writing reports about these studies and other reviews of key literature in air pollution health effects.

Qualifications: A strong background in the relevant sciences (epidemiology and/or toxicology, assessment of exposure to pollutants), and interest in air pollution and health issues.

Compensation $12/hour
