

History Department Courses, 2008-2010

(revised April 8, 2008)

The following is a list of upper-level courses that the History Dept. faculty plan to offer during the 2008-09 and 2009-10 academic years.

100-level courses, including the survey courses in U.S. History (111, 112) and Western Civilization (105, 106), will be offered every semester. This list is provided in the hope that it will enable students and their faculty advisors to plan their academic schedules with greater certainty. The schedule is, however, subject to change due to sabbaticals, retirements, new hires, etc. For a more complete list of courses, visit the "History Courses" page on this website. This list consists largely of courses offered by the day school faculty. For additional History courses offered through UML Continuing Education, visit their web site at <http://continuinged.uml.edu>.

For more information on each course, you can consult the Course Descriptions on this Web site. We also encourage you to visit the History Dept. office in Coburn Hall 114, and to contact individual members of the department. For information about registering for a particular course, consult the Registrar's Office at UML or login to ISIS.
