

Business organization and the myth of the market economy

WILLIAM LAZONICK

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Cambridge

New York Port Chester Melbourne Sydney

Contents

List of figures	page ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction: the wealth of three nations	1
PART I Economic institutions and economic performance
1 Institutional foundations of industrial dominance and decline	23
2 Organizations and markets in capitalist development	59
3 Business organization and competitive advantage	92
PART II Intellectual foundations and intellectual constraints
4 The theory and history of capitalist development	115
5 The making of the market mentality	147
PART III The "marvels of the market" versus the "visible hand"
6 The innovative business organization and transaction cost theory	191
7 Lending the economic institutions of capitalism a visible hand	228
PART IV Overcoming intellectual constraints
8 Business organization and economic theory	265
9 Rigor and relevance in economics	303
Index	351