

Political Science

Political science as a minor area of study consists of 18-24 credits of course work. At least 6 credits must be taken in course work at the 300-level or above. Course work is selected by the student in consultation with his or her advisor. Students who desire to make the most effective use of a minor in political science in pursuing specific career objectives in occupational areas such as law, foreign service, business, management, and public service should consult with the political science faculty in choosing courses which are most appropriate as preparation for such career objectives. Minors in Political Science may register for majors only courses with the permission of the Department Chair.

- Contact the Political Science Department, Coburn 1st floor, 978-934-4252