

Tiny Technologies and Big Investments at the 3rd Annual Nanotech and Microtech Investors Forum

Nano - Microtech
Conference

12 . 03 . 2007

December 3, 2007
2:00 p.m. - 6:30 p.m.

Marriott Newton
2345 Commonwealth
Avenue, Newton, MA

- Agenda
- Conference Fees and Registration
- Exhibiting

Research funding continues to flow into the region's labs that are working on nano and micro technologies. And investment follows into creative companies that are applying these technologies to real market needs. Our opening panel will discuss current investment strategies in the commercialization of nano and micro technologies from both federal and private perspectives. Our

• Agenda

- 2:00 pm Registration and networking
- 2:30 pm - 5:30 pm Panel "Current Trends in Investing in the Very Small" and Company presentations
- 5:30 - 6:30 pm Networking reception & poster presentation

Investor Pitch presenters include:

Alenas Imaging LLC
Aphios Corporation
Applied NanoWorks, Inc.
IntelliSense Corporation
Northeastern University
University of Massachusetts Amherst
University of Massachusetts Lowell

• Conference Fees and Registration

Sponsored by:

FISH & RICHARDSON

MATTO Members: $55 per person
Non-members: $80 per person

Registration is open.

• Exhibiting

Produced by:

Massachusetts
Technology Transfer Center

UMass Presidents Office
225 Franklin Street
Boston, Massachusetts 02110
jgoldberg@umassp.edu
<http://www.mattcenter.org>

We have a few spaces left for Exhibitors to exhibit nano- and micro-technologies that could be the foundation for new start-ups or early-stage companies.

If you have any questions regarding exhibiting at the Conference, please contact Julia Goldberg at jgoldberg@umassp.edu.

MTTC is based at UMass and facilitates technology transfer from all research institutions, public and private, in the commonwealth. The Center is financially supported by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. <http://www.mattcenter.org>