Video Created by English Major Student Evan Dingle under the Supervision of Dr. Wael Kamal, Digital Media Program Director

Visit our Website
Nov. 15-19. O’Leary 222. UMass Lowell’s Theatre Arts Program together with the Merrimack Repertory Theatre workshop the script for the new play Chill by Eleanor Burgess. Directed by Megan Sandberg-Zakian. Open rehearsals of a new play about the effects of 9/11, with actors from the Merrimack Repertory Theatre and UMass Lowell. Witness professional theater in the making. For all life throws you between 18 and 28. Brookline Massachusetts, 2001: With graduation on the horizon, four high schoolers assemble for an epic hangout, laying bare their dreams for life ahead. Ten years later, they gather to do it all again—but find that in a world swept by change, friendship is hardly as simple as it once seemed. Their story boldly captures the joy and heartache of becoming a grownup in the America that no one saw coming. For more information, contact Nancy Selleck.

Workshops - Nov. 16 & Nov. 18 3:30-7:30pm, Nov. 19. noon-6:00 pm
Discussions with the Artists - Nov. 15 and Nov. 17. 3:30- 5:00 pm
Public Staged Reading of the full play - Nov. 19. 7:30 pm

Ongoing. The Art & Design Department is pleased to announce the Showcase of Students’ Public Artworks (#ArtInFAHSS) installed throughout the campus starting Nov. 14. The projects are site specific and integrate ideas that concern students as artists and designers. Many of the artworks incorporate repurposed materials, and some invite viewer participation. The content ranges from political and humanitarian issues such as the treatment of farm animals, homelessness, environmentalism, and stories about refugees to aesthetic investigations of color, light, and time. This assignment fulfills the new Social Responsibility and Ethics Essential Learning Outcome requirements at UMass Lowell. Below is a sketch of one of the art projects. Tour the campus for a showcase of all art work on display and let us know your thoughts using hashtag #ArtInFAHSS.
Nov. 15. 9:30-10:45 am & 12:30-1:45 pm. Allen House Spinola Gallery. Media and Politics in the Middle East. The Working Group on Middle East, People, Culture and Politics invites you to meet journalist and author of the best selling book The Beauty Queen of Jerusalem, Sarit Yishai-Levi. First session of the day will include a panel discussion titled Media and Politics in the Middle East followed by Q&A. The second session will include a discussion of the author's best selling book, The Beauty Queen of Jerusalem as well as a discussion on contemporary Israel and the Middle East. The events are co-sponsored by the College of Fine Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences. For more information, contact Professor Arie Perliger.
Nov. 15. 4:30-6:30 pm. Events Center of the Tsongas Industrial History Center, Boott Cotton Mills Museum, 115 John St., Lowell. Mr. Magnificent's Magical Merrimack Adventure Book Event. Join fellow educators to celebrate the release of Mister Magnificent's Magical Merrimack Adventure, a new children's book by Art & Design Professor, Ingrid Hess. Listen to a reading by the author, view original artwork, make your own cut-paper art, enjoy refreshments and receive a free copy of the book. Authored especially for 3rd and 4th graders and a perfect companion the Tsongas Industrial History Center's Change in the Making program, Mister Magnificent magically blends literature, history, and art into a story about Lowell's past and present. RSVP by email to thc@uml.edu.
Nov. 16. By Appointment. 105 O'Leary Library. Employer in Residence with Douglas McDonald. The UMass Lowell Career & Co-op Center invites you to get career advice from a professional in your field. Douglas McDonald is Principal Accountant at Abt Associates, an international research organization. He leads research teams in studies funded by the U.S. Department of Justice, the Center for Disease Control and Prevention. These studies have focused on criminal justice policies, homeland security issues and drug abuse topics, including the current epidemic of opioid and heroin abuse. He holds a doctoral degree in sociology from Columbia University. To sign up for an appointment, log into CareerLINK and click on "Make Appointment."
Multiple Dates and Locations. Third Annual Rowdy Cares with Bears! Student Alumni Ambassadors in collaboration with Alpha Sigma Tau will be collecting new teddy bears and donations from student, staff, and alumni. Distribution will be to local hospitals, homeless shelters and more. Just donating a bear or 50 cents will get a child in need a bear for Christmas. The teddy bear drive will make a positive impact on the lives of many deserving children in the Greater Lowell area and encourage the spirit of giving throughout UMass Lowell community. Donations can be left at: Charles J. Hoff Scholarship Center, Kennedy College of Science Dean’s office, Manning’s College of Business Dean’s office & Ucrossing Student Engagement Office. For more Information, contact: Ralph_Stlouis@student.uml.edu

Locations:
Tabling Locations and Time: 11AM - 1PM
Ucrossing - November 3rd, 9th, December 1st
O’Leary Library - November 23rd
Southwick - November 16th
Nov. 16. 4:00-6:00 pm. O’Leary 327. Start Smart: Wage Negotiation Workshop for Women Students. A hands-on workshop about how to benchmark the current salary for the job you want after graduation, and how to negotiate that salary. Facilitated by: Beth Humberd, CWW Associate; Assistant Professor, Department of Management and Kimberly Merriman, CWW Associate; Associate Professor, Department of Management. The workshop is free and is hosted by the UMass Lowell’s Center for Women & Work; Career Services & Cooperative Education Center; and American Association of University Women. To register, go to uml.edu/StartSmart. For more information contact Darcie Boyer.
Did you know...

Over her working life, a woman will earn $1 million less than a man simply because she is a woman?

Don’t let this happen to you... or your daughter... or your mother.

START SMART: Wage Negotiation Workshop for Women Students*

Facilitated by:

- Beth Humberd
  CWW Associate; Assistant Professor, Department of Management
- Kimberly Merriman
  CWW Associate; Associate Professor, Department of Management

Wednesday, Nov. 16, 4–6 p.m.
O’Leary Library, Rm. 327
UMass Lowell, South Campus

A hands-on workshop about how to benchmark the current salary for the job you want after graduation, and how to negotiate that salary.

- The workshop is free.
- Register at uml.edu/StartSmart.
- Please register by Friday, November 11th as space is limited.
- For more information contact Darcie_Boyer@uml.edu (or x44386).

Hosted by: UMass Lowell’s Center for Women & Work; Career Services & Cooperative Education Center; and American Association of University Women

*Any student who identifies as a woman

Nov. 16, 3:30 pm. O’Leary Library, Aristotle Room, 3rd Floor. Distinguished Writer’s Series with Frank X. Gaspar. UMass Lowell’s Saab-Pedroso Center for Portuguese Culture and Research, in collaboration with the Jack and Stella Kerouac Center for the Public Humanities, announces a talk by the writer Frank X. Gaspar, the author of five collections of poetry and two novels. The event is free and open to the public. For more information, contact Professor Frank F. Sousa, director, Saab-Pedroso Center for Portuguese Culture and Research.
Nov. 18. 11 am. O’Leary 222. Italian Style: Fashion and Film. Please join the Department of World Languages and Cultures in a presentation on Italian style fashion and film from early cinema to the digital age with Professor Eugenia Paulicelli. Paulicelli is Professor of Italian and Comparative Literature and Director of Fashion Studies at Queens College and The Graduate Center of the City University of New York. Free and open to the public. For more information, contact Professor Giulia Po DeLisle.
Nov. 19, 4pm. UTEC, 35 Warren Street, Lowell. Music Concert: Reaching Out! - the second concert in the Chancellor's Celebration of Music series - pays homage to excellence in music and the community that supports it. Join us to celebrate UMass Lowell's investments in the community and the student talent that is nurtured through musical education. The concert will showcase the exhilarating collaboration between UMass Lowell students and the renowned Angkor Dance Troupe, the UMass Lowell String Project and the Lowell Youth Orchestra, the Music Clubhouse at the Lowell Boys and Girls Club just to name a few! Our UML students will celebrate the music that helps us become who we are - individuals united in community. Free and open to the public. Post-concert reception follows at UTEC at 5:30 pm. All proceeds of reception tickets support music department scholarships. Purchase reception tickets here: uml.edu/celebratemusic
Dec. 1, 3:00-7:00 pm. UMass Lowell’s Inn & Conference Center. The Center for Women & Work invites you to its annual holiday art and craft fair, Women’s Works: Celebrating the Creativity of Women. There are a few vendor tables remaining if you would like to participate. Registration form is at this link: https://www.uml.edu/Research/CWW/Events/Womens-Works.aspx
Dec. 2. 12 pm. O’Leary Mezzanine. Election 2016: What the #&! Happened?? with Steve Kornacki, MSNBC host and political correspondent. Steve Kornacki anchors the 4 PM hour on MSNBC Live. During the 2016 election, he consistently appeared in prime time on election night providing real-time analysis of voting patterns, exit polls and electoral data. The talk is open to the entire University community and is sponsored by the Center for Public Opinion, the Office of the Dean of Fine Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences and the Political Science Department.
Want to Submit an Event?

Send an email to FAHSS@uml.edu. Please include your name, the event information (date, time, location), a description of the event (50 words or less), an image, and a contact person.

Congratulations to IRC for Awards Won in the Northeast Regional Model Arab League at Northeastern University
This November, the International Relations Club participated in the Northeast Regional Model Arab League at Northeastern University. Twenty of FAHSS students participated in the simulation representing Iraq Kuwait and Libya across the various committees of the Arab League, competing against ten other schools (including Suffolk University, Emmanuel College, Roger Williams University, Clark University, Bard College and the US Military Academy at West Point).

UMass Lowell took home eight awards for individual performance, and the team representing Kuwait was awarded honorable mention as best delegation overall (second only to the team from Northeastern).

Competitively the students once again exceeded expectations. Facing stiff competition from several highly trained and experienced teams. Our returning students continued to hone their skills in researching and debate, and our new students are moving on with key experiences to build on. Congratulations to the whole team and to Jason Carter, Model UN Program Coordinator.

Showcasing in New Voices, Uniques Visions (NVUV) Exhibition
Congrats to FAHSS Kelly Freitas, Emily Pacht, Amanda Murrin and Jillian Byra. All four were selected for the New Voices, Unique Visions (NVUV) exhibition. NVUV is a student design competition aimed at showcasing the best student designers from renown colleges and universities in New England. UML had the most selected entries of any college or university. Amanda Murrin had the additional honor of having her work selected for the Best in Category Award. Projects were from Professor Regina Milan's Senior Studio class and Design-in-Motion class.

College of Fine Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences
2016-2017 Student Assistantship Program

The FAHSS Dean's Office is soliciting proposals for the use of student assistants to support short-term departmental and faculty projects related to research, creative work, innovative pedagogy, and service learning. This opportunity is open to all faculty members within the College.

The Basics

* Funds must be utilized prior to June 30th, and are limited to direct student payroll expenses;
* Undergraduate students will be compensated at a rate of $10 per hour, and graduate students at a rate of $15 per hour;
* In general, requests should be limited to 10 hours per week during the semester and 20 hours per week during intersessions, and to 100 hours per project. Additional limits may apply to students who are receiving other University funding;
* Considering that College funds are limited, matching funds are strongly encouraged and will greatly strengthen the application. Sources for matching funds include department budgets (operating, discretionary, research overhead), faculty accounts (e.g. research overhead, startup), and external grants.

Submission and Review Process

Faculty wishing to apply for student support should submit the following:

* Names of the faculty member(s) and student(s) involved with the project;
* Indication of student status (undergraduate or graduate);
* Indication of other University funding being received by student during the current academic year (e.g. honors co-op, Emerging Scholars, GTA/GRA);
* Indication of level of committed departmental, Center, or faculty funding to supplement
Applications should be submitted via email to Andrew Dewing, FAHSS grants and contracts administrator (Andrew_dewing@uml.edu) in accordance with the following deadlines:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Submission Deadline</th>
<th>Faculty member notified of decision</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Jan. 27, 2017</td>
<td>Feb. 10, 2017</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>March 31, 2017</td>
<td>April 14, 2017</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Evaluation Process

Proposals will be evaluated on the basis of the following:

* Intellectual and /or creative merits of proposed project;
* Viability of proposed project;
* Likely educational benefits to student;
* Potential of project to: o Advance the career of faculty member;
  o Lead to a successful grant proposal for external funding;
  o Advance the educational mission of the College or University
* Project efficiency (matching funds, consistency of resource request with project scope).

Grant Opportunity

Laura and John Arnold Foundation, Criminal Justice Grants:

The Laura and John Arnold Foundation’s (LJAF) core objective is to address our nation's most pressing and persistent challenges using evidence-based, multi-disciplinary approaches. LJAF is seeking Letters of Interest from organizations with ideas for piloting and rigorously evaluating innovative diversion and alternative to arrest programs. Letters of Interest should be submitted by December 15, 2016. For more information, please click here.