DETERMINING YOUR NEED

Financial aid is available to assist in your efforts to pay college costs. We primarily use two factors to determine the amount and types of aid you may receive: Cost of Attendance (COA) and Expected Family Contribution (EFC).

Cost of Attendance (COA) is the amount we estimate it should cost you to attend UMass Lowell for one academic year. These costs have been developed as guides to help students anticipate educational expenses. Some students will spend more than the typical amounts, others less, depending on individual lifestyles and circumstances. COA includes direct costs, which are costs directly billed to you by the university and indirect costs, which are other related expenses a student incurs, such as books and transportation.

Expected Family Contribution (EFC) is an estimate of the amount of money you (and your parents, if you are dependent) could reasonably contribute toward college costs. This figure is calculated by the U.S. Department of Education. This is calculated by using information from your FAFSA.

Demonstrated Financial Need is when the Financial Aid Office subtracts your EFC from your COA; the difference is your eligibility for financial aid, also known as Demonstrated Financial Need (Need).

Example:

Cost of Attendance (COA) – Expected Family Contribution (EFC) = Demonstrated Financial Need (Need)
UNDERSTANDING YOUR AWARD LETTER

Your Financial Aid award may consist of some or all of the following types of aid depending on your financial need: Grants, Scholarships, Waivers, Student Employment and Federal Student Loans. Please note: all financial aid awards are contingent on funding.

DETERMINING YOUR AID

Need Based Aid is awarded when you have demonstrated financial need; this means your EFC is less than your COA. Need-based financial aid is available from federal, state and institutional sources. It may consist of scholarships, waivers, student employment and subsidized student loans.

Non-Need Based Aid are types of aid that do not require a student to have demonstrated financial need. These are added to a student’s aid package after the student has been considered for all other types of aid.

TYPES OF NEED BASED AID

Federal Pell Grant: A federal grant awarded by the U.S. Dept of Education to students with exceptional need that does not need to be repaid. For 2012-2013, awards ranged from $575 to $5550, depending on EFC and enrollment.

Federal Supplemental Grant (FSEOG): A federal grant awarded by the University to students who are Pell eligible. FSEOG does not need to be repaid. Awards range from $200 to $4000, depending on available funds and number of eligible applicants.

Massachusetts Grant: A state grant awarded by the Massachusetts Office of Student Financial Assistance (OSFA) to Pell eligible undergraduate state residents. To be considered, full-time students must have filed a FAFSA by May 1st. The state notifies students directly regarding eligibility.

Mass Part-Time Grant: A state grant awarded to eligible undergraduate state residents. To be considered, students must be enrolled for at least six (6) credits but fewer than twelve (12) credits per semester.

DHE Tuition Waiver: A state funded program from the Department of Higher Education (DHE) awarded to eligible state residents. To be eligible, students must be enrolled at least half time (6+ credits) in a state funded undergraduate degree program, although priority is given to full time students. Continuing Education courses are not covered by this program.

DHE Cash Grant: A state funded grant program from the Department of Higher Education (DHE) awarded to undergraduate state residents. Awarded to students enrolled at least half time, although priority is given to full time students. Continuing Education courses are not covered by this program.

UML Need-Based Grant: An institutional grant program administered by the Financial Aid Office. This grant is awarded to undergraduate students pursuing first undergraduate degree. Continuing Education courses are not covered by this program.

Student Employment Opportunities:

The Federal Work Study and the UMass Lowell Student Employment Program provides part-time, on campus employment to eligible students to help defray the cost of their education. Work awards range from $2000-$5500 and are not automatically applied as a credit to the university bill. However, students may complete a student employment withholding form to have 70% of their bi-weekly earnings go directly toward their student bill. Additional information regarding Student Employment Programs can be accessed on our website at www.uml.edu/FinancialAid/employment.

All eligible students will receive a Student Employment Welcome packet before orientation.

Federal Perkins Loan: A 5% fixed interest federal loan administered by the university. Awards range from $100 to $4,000 depending upon funding. Repayment starts nine months following graduation, a student’s withdrawal from school, or when a student drops to less than half-time enrollment. Repayment may be extended over a ten-year period. Principal and interest are deferred while a student is enrolled at least half-time (6+ Credits).

Federal Direct Subsidized Loans: This is a fixed low interest loan program funded by the Federal Government. Interest rate for 2012-2013 is 6.8%, with an origination fee of 1%. There is no separate application for this loan and a credit check is not required.

First time borrowers at UMass Lowell are required to complete an Master Promissory Note and Entrance Counseling at www.studentloans.gov before funds are credited to the student’s university account. Interest is paid by the U.S. Department of Education during qualified periods of deferred enrollment.
MERIT SCHOLARSHIPS

UMass Lowell offers a variety of Merit Scholarships. Students are automatically considered for awards at the time of application, therefore no separate application process is required. Most awards are renewable annually if the scholarship’s standards are met. For more information about merit scholarships, please visit our website at www.uml.edu/financialaid/scholarships.

NEED AND MERIT BASED SCHOLARSHIPS

UMass Lowell Scholarship: UMass Lowell offers a limited number of scholarships to incoming freshmen based on academic achievement, special talents and financial need. Incoming freshmen who file a FAFSA are automatically considered for this scholarship. Award amounts vary depending on financial need. This scholarship is renewable if the student maintains a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or higher, demonstrated financial need and full time enrollment.

ADJUSTMENTS TO YOUR FINANCIAL AID

REASONS FOR ADJUSTMENTS

Requests made by the student on the financial aid award notification letter or through student self-service at http://www.ISIS.uml.edu.

Additional aid from other sources must be reported in writing to the financial aid office. Awards from other sources may cause adjustments to a student’s financial aid. According to federal regulations, total financial aid including federal, state, university and other sources of assistance may not exceed the estimated COA.

Special Circumstances: The Financial Aid Office can adjust the COA and the information used to calculate your EFC to take into account special circumstances you might have. Situations could include your family’s unusual medical and dental expenses, child care, tuition expenses and/or unemployment.

There must be compelling reasons for the financial aid administrator to take this step and you’ll have to provide adequate documentation to support any adjustments.

If any of these circumstances apply to you please contact the financial aid office to speak to your counselor.

Please Note: Expenses such as tithing, utilities, credit card expenses, children’s allowances are not considered Special Conditions.

Enrollment status for initial financial aid awards are based as follows: undergraduate = 12 credits, graduate = 9 credits, and continuing education = 6 credits. The enrollment of each financial aid recipient is confirmed after the Add/Drop period of each semester and when adjustments are made, students are notified via the UML email system. Students whose enrollment drops below half time (6 credits) may only be eligible for a Pell grant.

Withdrawal from the university requires students to discharge all financial obligations to the university, return all university property, and file a written notification of withdrawal with the Registrar’s Office. Students should meet with a financial aid counselor prior to withdrawing in order to understand the financial impacts. Please refer to the “Withdrawal Policy” sections in this booklet for more information.

Awards are contingent on registration; as a result, not enrolling for the fall semester will require cancellation of the entire financial aid award. If a student is re-admitted for the spring semester, financial aid will be re-instated to the extent funds are available. A student who defers admission to spring term must contact the Financial Aid Office to retain spring term aid.

Residency changes during the academic year (e.g. out of state to in-state) may require an adjustment to your financial aid.

Grade level changes may require an adjustment to your financial aid (e.g. sophomore to junior or undergraduate to graduate). This may happen when transfer credits are evaluated after the initial financial aid package has been processed.

Housing status changes may require an adjustment to your financial aid (e.g. dorm to commuter). Initial financial aid awards are based on the housing status entered on the FAFSA. Housing is confirmed after the Add/Drop period each semester.

IMPORTANT: Students must report in writing any changes in housing, enrollment, grade level, career or residency to the financial aid office immediately to make sure your financial aid award is accurate. You may use the reverse side of your award letter to notify us of these changes.

VERIFICATION PROCESS AND PROCEDURES

Verification is the process used to validate the accuracy of the information provided on your FAFSA. Applications are selected for verification when they are submitted to the FAFSA processing center.

If your application is selected for verification, you will be mailed a Missing Information Letter informing you of the documents needed for review. Once this process is completed and your eligibility is verified, your financial aid will be credited to your account.

Documents requested for verification include parent, student and spouse’s IRS Tax Return Transcript and W2 forms along with a verification worksheet. Please ensure your verification documents include your name, student ID and all required signatures.

Failure to submit requested information may result in the cancellation of financial aid. In addition, students identified by the U.S. Department of Education must submit documentation to support immigration, citizenship, selective service, veteran status and/or social security number.

It is important to regularly check your ISIS self service To Do List and your UML email account for reminder notifications of missing documents and the status of your application. For detailed verification information visit our webpage under Applying for Aid.

Disbursements are made after the Add/Drop period of each semester once enrollment, residency, grade level and housing are confirmed.

ADDITIONAL FINANCING OPTIONS

THREE ALTERNATIVE FINANCING OPTIONS

Tuition Payment Plan (TuitionPay)
This service enables you to make monthly installments for the full year’s tuition and fees. Brochures are available in the Student Financial Services Office or by contacting TuitionPay directly at 1-800-635-0120. You may also apply online at https://secure.tuitionpayenroll.com/.

Federal Direct PLUS Loan: Federal Direct PLUS Loans are for parents and step-parents of dependent children who are undergraduate students attending school at least half-time (6 Credits).

Federal PLUS Loans carry a fixed interest rate of 7.9%. Origination or federal default fees of 4.0% may be deducted from each loan disbursement.
The maximum annual loan amount equals the cost of attendance, less all other financial aid received. Loan approval is subject to credit criteria established by the U.S. Department of Education and a credit report will be obtained from a national credit bureau once you apply. Those who do not pass the credit check may still be able to receive a PLUS Loan with a credit worthy co-borrower. For parents denied a PLUS loan, students may be eligible to borrow an additional Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan.
PLUS Loans are disbursed to student accounts in at least two equal payments, paid once the student’s enrollment is verified.
Interest begins accruing from the date loan funds are first disbursed until the loan is repaid in full. The first payment is due within 60 days of the loan’s last disbursement. Deferment options are also available.
To apply, print and complete the Federal Direct Plus Pre-Application available at www.uml.edu/financialaid/forms.aspx and submit it to the Financial Aid Office.

Private Alternative Loans: Before considering private loan options, you should apply for federal, state and institutional financial aid, including federal student loans. Students considering educational private loans should apply only after they have applied for financial aid and received notification from the Financial Aid Office. UMass Lowell strongly encourages all students to apply for financial aid each year online at www.fafsa.gov.
UMass Lowell will process private/alternative loans for any lender selected by the student. Please visit our website at http://www.uml.edu/FinancialAid/loans/Alternative.aspx for more information.

For additional information, please refer to IRS Publication 970: Tax Benefits for Education, available at www.irs.gov or discuss your situation with a personal income tax professional.

MAINTAINING FINANCIAL AID ELIGIBILITY

APPLYING FOR FINANCIAL AID

You must reapply for financial aid each year by the March 1st priority deadline by completing the FAFSA online at www.fafsa.gov and remember to add our Federal School Code: 002161.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS (SAP)

Policy:
Federal and state regulations require each student receiving financial aid meet satisfactory academic progress (SAP) standards to ensure academic progress toward the student’s degree or certificate program. The standards of SAP apply to all federal, state and university financial aid programs.

The SAP policy evaluates three components to determine eligibility for financial aid: cumulative GPA (qualitative standard), completion rate (quantitative standard) and maximum credit hours attempted for degree program.

Undergraduate students must maintain a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0 and maintain a minimum 70% completion rate (total earned credits/total attempted credits).

The maximum timeframe allowed for an undergraduate is 150% of the published program length.

Graduate students must maintain a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0 and complete the degree requirements with 5 years for a Masters and 8 years for a Doctorate.

SAP will be monitored by each Academic Program Department.

The Financial Aid Office conducts SAP evaluations at the end of each spring term for undergraduate and graduate students. Certificate students are evaluated at the end of each semester. Students who do not maintain the university SAP standards will become ineligible to receive financial aid.

Appeals:
A student who has lost financial aid eligibility may enter an appeal process with the Financial Aid Office. Each appeal is reviewed on a case-by-case basis. If the appeal is approved, the student will be placed on financial aid probation for one semester and will be eligible for financial aid. A student’s eligibility for financial aid will be lost in the next semester if the student does not satisfy the appeal agreement.

Regaining Eligibility:
Students may regain eligibility for financial aid by meeting SAP standards in a future semester, or by meeting the standards of an approved academic plan.

*For the complete SAP policy, please refer to the financial aid web page at www.uml.edu/financialaid. This policy may be subject to changes or updates. The policy on the financial aid web page supersedes the policy in this booklet.
MERIT AID REQUIREMENTS

Maintaining Merit Aid
Students must maintain the minimum cumulative grade point average (GPA) designated for a particular merit aid program. For example, the required cumulative GPA for the Dean’s Scholarship is 3.0 and for the Chancellor’s Commonwealth is 3.25.

Once grades are posted in June, the Financial Aid Office reviews the cumulative GPAs of merit scholarship recipients. Students who meet the minimum requirements of their particular merit aid program will automatically have their scholarship renewed.

You have the right to appeal. The Financial Aid Scholarship Committee will review your appeal and make the necessary determinations.

WITHDRAWAL POLICY

Students withdrawing from the University are required to discharge all financial obligations to the University, return all University property and file a written notification of withdrawal with the Registrar’s Office. Students should meet with a financial aid counselor prior to withdrawing to understand the financial impacts. Instructions for withdrawing from the University are published on the Registrar’s web site at http://www.uml.edu/registrar/policies%20and%20procedures/withdraw.html.

Return of Title IV Funds:
In accordance with Federal Regulations, the amount of Title IV aid a student has earned for the enrollment period is based on the length of time the student remains enrolled for that period. Therefore, the percentage of the enrollment period completed is also the percentage of aid the student has earned. Students who withdraw on or before the 60% point of the term will have their federal financial aid eligibility calculated in direct proportion to the length of actual enrollment. A student who remains enrolled beyond the 60% point earns all aid for the period.

The return of Federal Title IV funds will be in the following order:
1. Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loan
2. Federal Direct Subsidized Stafford Loan
3. Federal Perkins Loan
4. Federal PLUS Loan / Federal Graduate PLUS Loan
5. Federal Pell Grant
6. Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)
7. Federal TEACH Grant

A student may be eligible for a post-withdrawal disbursement of federal financial aid if the return of funds calculation indicates the student earned more aid than was disbursed prior to the student’s withdrawal. Post-withdrawal disbursements will be credited toward unpaid institutional charges, with any remaining excess portion offered as a disbursement to the student. Students must accept a post-withdrawal disbursement within 14 days of the offer. If a response is not received or if the offer is declined, excess funds will be cancelled and/or returned to the appropriate aid program.

Return of Non-Title IV Funds:
The university will calculate return of non-Title IV funds in accordance with the appropriate state and institutional refund policy. Massachusetts state funds are calculated based on the Massachusetts Office of Student Financial Assistance (OSFA) policy, available at www.osfa.mass.edu. Institutional funds will be returned on a case-by-case basis following appropriate administrator review of aid earned and balance due. Aid required to be returned to the program from which the funds originated will be made in the following order: federal, institutional, state. Note: The information contained in this section is subject to change, without notice, in order to comply with federal, state, or university requirements. Please refer to the financial aid website for the most current refund policy at http://www.uml.edu/FinancialAid/apply/withdrawl.aspx
