AREAS OF EVALUATION

- Research, Scholarship, & Creative Activity
- Teaching / Instructional Effectiveness
- Service
The candidate should discuss the importance of their research, scholarly works, and/or creative activity and the development of their discipline. This is defined in the MSP contract (VII.B.2.c.(2)):

Including, but not limited to research funded by governmental agencies, professional associations and/or publicly acknowledged by learned and professional societies; book publications by governmental agencies, professional associations, and/or acknowledged publishing houses; and publications in recognized professional and/or academic journals, and published conference proceedings.
The candidate should discuss activities that, directly or indirectly, create the rich educational environment of UMass Lowell. In accordance with the MSP contract, evaluation of faculty achievement in instructional effectiveness should consider the full breadth of their contributions. The MSP contract (VII.B.2.c.(1)) defines instructional effectiveness as:

Including, but not limited to […] development, improvement and demonstration of subject matter competence, continued improvement of methods and procedures of classroom presentation; active participation in departmental evaluation of course offerings and curricula for the purpose of maintaining their quality, relevance, and viability; conscientious discharging of responsibilities for student advisement throughout the academic year; and special or uniquely valuable contributions to the development or implementation or teaching of needed courses in any college or division of the University, and the like.
The candidate should discuss the impact of their sustained and transformative service to the profession, University, and community. The narrative should not merely list activities undertaken or committee memberships, but should provide readers with a clear picture of how the candidate shapes professional life in the discipline, participates in faculty self-governance, and enacts leadership at these various levels. The narrative should clarify the candidate’s role in key service activities cited, and identify the resulting accomplishments and outcomes; leadership roles should be emphasized.* The contract sets out three areas for recognized service (VII.B.2.c.(3)):

(a) Service to the Profession
(b) Service to the University
(c) Community Service

* The candidate should list both compensated and uncompensated service assignments, and delineate accordingly.
