Program Announcement:
CPH-NEW Publication Awards

The Center for the Promotion of Health in the New England Workplace (CPH-NEW) announces a new Publication Award opportunity for previous recipients of the Center’s Pilot Grants.

Eligibility:
• Any past pilot project grantee who completed the project funded by CPH-NEW and has not yet published the results.
• Projects must have been successfully completed, with submission of a close-out report to CPH-NEW.

Award Amount:
• Each publication grant will be for a maximum of $2,000.
• One-half of the total amount will be provided in advance and one-half when the manuscript is completed, unless special circumstances require more of the funds in advance (must be justified).
• Awards are conditional upon NIOSH funding.

Rolling Deadline:
• Applications will be accepted at any time.

Publication funds may be used for:
• Completion of data analysis
• Hourly work by a student assistant to update the literature or format the manuscript
• Journal publication or page fees
• Other appropriate costs as justified by the investigator
• No indirect costs allowed

To apply for a publication award, please complete the two-page application form.
