LOWELL, Mass. - The UMass Lowell Department of Art & Design is pleased to present the Fall 2018 BFA Exhibition. The exhibit will be on display in the University Gallery in Mahoney Hall, located on UMass Lowell's South Campus, 870 Broadway Street, Lowell, MA. The exhibition will be on view from Dec. 19, 2018– Jan. 4, 2019 (please note that the gallery is closed from December 24 – January 1). All are invited to a reception for the artists on Tuesday, Dec. 18, from 5:00-7:00 p.m. in the University Gallery.

The BFA candidates are: Rhea Breau, Xavier Parham, Vita Mironova of Latvia, and Jennifer Santamaria of Methuen, MA. Their projects include illustration, printmaking and multi-media works, and a 3D animation.

The Art and Design Capstone is a year-long process in which students explore new materials, investigate diverse concepts, and cultivate new ideas. Eventually these intents are united into one substantial body of work. The Art and Design faculty encourage a growth mindset and the conceptual development of projects that help define a student’s aesthetic and aspirations for their post-college practice.

The University Gallery and Mahoney hallways are accessible to all. Gallery events are free and open to the public. Parking can be found in the Wilder Metered Lot, located at the intersection of Wilder Street and Bachelder Street, with the entrance located on Bachelder Street. Visitors may park in any open campus lot that is not metered during the week after 3:30 p.m.

The UMass Lowell BFA Degree Program is an accredited visual arts program of professional study in art & design that maintains the standards, guidelines and practices established by the National Association of Schools of Art & Design.
