Practicum/Internship Guidelines for Students and Employers

1. The goal of an internship is to provide professional experience beyond the classroom walls. The internship should be a learning experience for students.
2. The internship can be paid or unpaid. However, unpaid internships at “for-profit,” private sector organizations present a unique set of circumstances: UMass Lowell strongly encourages our valued employer partners to become familiar with the federal government's Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) and the limitations it places on unpaid internships. Particularly, employers and students should read the FLSA's Test for Unpaid Interns (<http://www.dol.gov/whd/regs/compliance/whdfs71.htm>) and the six criteria that must be met to be in compliance with the law:
 - a) The internship, even though it includes actual operation of the facilities of the employer, is similar to training which would be given in an educational environment;
 - b) The internship experience is for the benefit of the intern;
 - c) The intern does not displace regular employees, but works under close supervision of existing staff;
 - d) The employer that provides the training derives no immediate advantage from the activities of the intern; and on occasion its operations may actually be impeded;
 - e) The intern is not necessarily entitled to a job at the conclusion of the internship;
 - f) The employer and the intern understand that the intern is not entitled to wages for the time spent in the internship.
3. Should a UMass Lowell student wish to apply for an unpaid internship and be offered the position, a faculty member from the appropriate academic department will review the internship description to determine whether it qualifies for college credit.
4. Employers who contact the Art and Design Department will be made aware that most students need to earn money for tuition or other expenses and thus prefer paid internships.
5. The internship should be related to the student’s Art major and concentration in Studio Art or Graphic Design.
6. The employer and co-workers need to be aware that interns are young professionals in training. A position consisting of nothing but rote and repetitive activity would not qualify for internship credit. On the other hand, a position that may have some routine activities, but combines them with learning experiences such as research and creative projects, most likely would qualify. The goal is for students to obtain challenging and meaningful learning experiences.
7. Most internships will have to be evaluated on a case-by-case basis. The Art and Design Department will try to be as flexible as possible in its evaluation while at the same time adhering to the overall goal of the program, which is to provide a real-world employment component in art and/or design that enriches the student's in-class academic experience.
8. A Practicum must be relevant to the student’s anticipated career and provide a solid on-the-job learning experience. The experience must consist of between 8 and 10 hours per week per semester for each 3-credit experience and must be approved by the faculty supervisor in the Art and Design Department. The practicum/internship semester hours must total 120.

9. The student must have someone on-site to act as a supervisor and contact person. The on-site supervisor must carefully read the UMass Lowell Guidelines for Employers and provide the UMass Lowell supervisor a job description and letter, on company stationery, stating a willingness to take the student, as well as the number of hours per week and anticipated duties.
10. The on-site supervisor must provide the UMass Lowell supervisor with a completed evaluation form (attached) at mid-semester and at the end of the semester. The only grade that can be given for a Practicum/Internship is S (satisfactory) or U (unsatisfactory).
11. The student must keep a journal of experiences, documentation, and other related materials that must be submitted to the UMass Lowell supervisor prior to final grading. This can be a digital document submitted to the faculty supervisor as PDF. Failure to submit the journal will result in the grade of U, regardless of the on-site supervisor's evaluation. Incompletes will not be given unless approved prior to the final grading deadline

Practicum/Internship Learning Objectives:

- The internship expands the depth and breadth of a student's academic experience.
- Students are exposed to real world experiences in art and design that cannot be obtained in the classroom.
- Students gain professional experience and learn about the work environment in their field and area of concentration.
- Students develop self-discipline, maturity, self-confidence, and an awareness of professional demeanor and etiquette.
- The internship provides an opportunity to make connections, reflect and assess whether the students' future goals are in line with their field of studies, and the professional world.
- Students apply the knowledge and skills acquired at UMass Lowell to a work environment.
- Students learn how to balance their artistic talent and ideas with the demands of creative professional life.
- Students acquire new skills and knowledge.
- Students build positive professional relationships and begin to develop networking skills.
- Employers provide mentoring relationships to young professionals in the field.
- Students develop an understanding of healthy employer/employee/coworker relationships by learning to manage expectations and finding a work/life balance.
