BIOART WORKSHOP IN PORTUGAL
https://studyabroad.umasscs.net/Program ID = 11679

This is an interdisciplinary course that combines art and science at Cultivamos Cultura in São Luís, Portugal. The intersection of Art, Biology and the Environment offer unique opportunities to visual artists. This innovative course, which is already on its fourth edition, will allow non-specialists to acquire theoretical and practical skills in biological and environmental sciences in connection to the visual arts. There will be 2-3 days spent in Lisbon as well. Counts toward World-Ready Track in Portuguese.

Confirmation deposit = $500 due by February 1 for spring 2018. Travel dates tbd based on air fares but March 10-18, 2018 tentatively.
